LUMBER ADVANCES.

Panhandle Towns Should Establish Cement Block Plants For Substantial Buildings.

On January 1st, the lumber mills made another advance on lumber. The advance being from $1 to $3 per thousand, according to grade. This, it is claimed, was occasioned by the unprecedented heavy demand for building material throughout the Southwest. This indicates the material prosperity of the country; and it also indicates that there is but little likelihood of the price ever being lower than at present, in fact, it will be higher. It looks like the prophecy of the chairman of the Texas Lumbermen's Association made last summer that "inside of three years lumber will be so high that only the very rich can afford to use it for building purposes," will prove true.—Miami Chief.

In view of above, which is no doubt a fact, the News' suggestion (last week) that a plant for the making of cement building blocks be established in this and other towns in the Panhandle should be a good one, and if those who are interested in seeing our towns grow as they should would investigate this matter, we feel sure that the time will soon be here when a man can erect a more substantial home at a far less expense than he now can. One thing is certain, if some other material is not used for building purposes soon the average man will have to resort to the old-time dugout or adobe as a place of abode for himself and family. It is not the local lumber dealers' fault that these high prices prevail—in fact, the local dealer derives less profit now than he did before the advance by the wholesalers or mill men, as he realizes that if he advances local or retail prices in conformity with the wholesalers, advance, his customers will be dissatisfied, and can better afford to make a less per cent on his investment than he can to have adverse comment on his business.—McLean News.

This clipping was handed the Record by A. L. W. Nilsson, manager of the Roswell Cement Roof Factory Co. and the Hondo Stone Manufacturing Company, who manufacture the best substitute for lumber and wood shingles yet discovered.

Justifiable Homicide.

(From Hagerman Messenger.)
"In the shade of the old apple tree,
I have waited so long, love for thee
That the voice once I heard
Grows faint with each word
Till its barely a whisper to me.
There is no more buzz left in the bee,
The blossoms are withered, ah, me!
And the tree that once grew
Where I waited for you,
Has changed to an old chestnut tree.

In the shade of this suffering tree,
Where you hear nary buzz of the bee,
With a big carving knife,
That I swiped from my wife,
I am waiting and watching for thee!
Of daggers I have two or three,
An ax and a cutlass you see,
And I'll stick all these things
In the next guy who sings—
"In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree."

Off to the Training Home.

Cadets Misses Hardie Crawford and Augusta Swinson of the local corps of the Salvation Army left this morning for Chicago to enter the training home of the Army and they will be commissioned as officers and will enter into the active work of the army. They will devote their lives to the cause. These young ladies have been members of the army here for some time and their sweet singing will be missed by those who nightly stand around the open air ring on the street corners at the meeting of the Army. Adjutant Woodward and wife and about twenty Salvationists were at the depot to see them off and bid them God's speed and farewell. Many Salvation Army hymns were sung at the station and as the train pulled out they sang "God be With You" "Till We Meet Again."
